17,000 YANKEE SOLDIERS NOW PATROL LINE BUT MEXICAN RAIDS KEEP RIGHT ON

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., Aug. 13.—Seventeen thousand American troops are now guarding the border, but raids continue.

The Texas militia expects to be summoned to aid the regulars.

Bandit operations around Mercedes are believed disorganized following a battle in which they lost three killed.

Two Mexicans were killed in this afternoon's fighting. All trains are heavily guarded.

CARRANZAISTS DISAVOW BORDER RESPONSIBILITY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—The Carranzaists have disavowed responsibility for the border disturbances. The local junta announces that the Carranzaist commander at Matamoros has notified General Funston that the movements of every Carranza soldier have been fully accounted for since the trouble began. He has ordered his soldiers to co-operate with General Funston to suppress the bandits.

AMERICA ANGERED AT JUNTA ACTIVITIES AT CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Officials of the government believe that Carranza's belligerent attitude is largely the result of a misunderstanding of the purposes of the Pan-American conference.

A peace appeal signed by all the South American envoys and by Secretary of State Robert Lansing is now ready for forwarding to the warring Mexican forces. The text will probably be published Sunday.

Latest reports indicate that the situation, both at Vera Cruz and along the border, is improved.

The battleships New Hampshire, Louisiana and Connecticut will probably be held at Guantanamo awaiting developments.

The activities of the local Carranzaist junta are known to have angered the administration, the publicity campaign conducted by it having specially displeased President Wilson.

It is hinted that Eliseo Arrondondo, Carranza's chief representative here, may be recalled and that America may take steps to curb the junta.

MEXICANS REPORTED TO HAVE FIRED ON U. S. TROOPS

NOGALES, Ariz., Aug. 13.—It is reported today that Mexican troops fired at the American cavalry guarding the San Rafael valley, thirty miles east of here. The fire was not returned.

VILLA SAYS HE'S WILLING TO BE ELIMINATED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Through Diaz Lombardo, foreign minister, Gen. Villa today announced his willingness to eliminate himself from Mexican affairs. The statement was qualified by the denouncement of the Cientificos faction, so many believe the statement practically nullifies itself.

DECLARES VILLA MURDERED AMERICAN AVIATOR

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—William Mattery, an American and a former Villa aviator, today writes a signed story in the Tribune, denying Villa's claim that Mickey McGuire, the young California aviator, was killed by a falling aeroplane.

Mattery declares Villa murdered McGuire. He states Villa's agent hired him and McGuire in New Orleans and promised to pay them $500 a week. They received $2000 in advance and stayed with Villa seven weeks.

Unable to collect their money, McGuire told Villa he would quit unless paid. Villa laughed and McGuire started to walk away and twenty rifle bullets entered his head and back.

Villa imprisoned Mattery and announced he also was killed in a fall. Mattery was sentenced to be shot, but escaped.

SWEDISH STEAMER IS ASHORE ON SKJERRIES

LONDON, Aug. 13.—The Swedish steamship Kiruna is ashore on the Skjerries Islands, sixty miles west of Liverpool and will probably be a total loss. The vessel was en route from Philadelphia to Stockholm.

GOOD TEMPLARS MEET

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 13.—Hundreds of delegates and visitors from all parts of the country are here today to attend the annual convention of the National Grand Lodge, International Order of Good Templars.

Are you good at spelling? If so, you should read the "Alphabet-Misspelled Word Contest" advertisements in section 2, page 9, today. Two cash prizes of $1.00 each will be given for finding two incorrectly spelled words in the advertisements.

GOING RIGHT INTO THE JAWS OF DEATH ON THE BOW OF A BRITISH SUBMARINE.

This photograph of a British sailor was taken as he stood on the bow of a submarine plunging in a heavy sea in the Dardanelles. The vessel was surrounded by mines, but drove ahead on the surface almost regardless of the danger. It would have been impossible for the man at the wheel to see clearly enough from the periscope to avoid the mines which the Germans have let loose in those waters, so a lookout was placed in the bow for that purpose. It will be noticed that despite the heavy sea the sailor is standing on the bow without any support to cling to.

PROBE IS ASKED INTO ALLEGED DOMINATION OF U. S. BY ALLIES

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 13.—The American Independence Union of California has addressed an open letter to every congressman and senator demanding an investigation of reports that the Pearsons firm, Lord Condray and English contractors, through financial business connections with McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, and Col. E. M. House, attorney for those concerns and a personal friend of President Wilson dominate the cabinet and cause America to act practically as an ally of Britain and drive Brian out of the cabinet.

FLIRTATION WITH A MOTOR WHEEL NEARLY ENDS IN DISASTER

Clerk At Edison Office Dis-mounts Hurriedly As Bike Strikes a Rut

Motor wheels have no more attraction for Ralph Walbridge, clerk at the office of the Southern California Edison Company. He "flirted" with one of 'em last night and the flirtation resulted far from agreeable.

Walbridge borrowed a motor wheel and went sailing over to Garden Grove. That is, toward Garden Grove, for the front wheel of the mechanically propelled bicycle struck a rut a short distance out of "the Grove," throwing Walbridge.

Walbridge picked himself up from the debris and, nothing daunted, tried to start the motor wheel. But the pesky thing wouldn't start. There was too much sand in the motor, as an investigation this morning revealed.

So Walbridge pushed his erstwhile mount from near Garden Grove to the Mercereau store on West Fifth street. Leaving the wheel at the store, Walbridge "hoofed it" back to Santa Ana.

Aside from several bruises and some torn clothing Walbridge is none the worse for his experience. But he swears he has had a sufficiency of motor wheels.

BARON BLEICHROEDER DIES AUGUST FIRST

LONDON, Aug. 13.—Dispatches today announce the death in Poland of Baron Von Bleichroeder, on August 1. The baron was a son of the noted banker of the same name and a member of the highest German circles.

It was love for Baron Bleichroeder that caused Princess Sophia of Saxe-Weimar to commit suicide in 1913, when her father, Prince William, refused to permit the pair to marry.

TURKS LAY BAN ON ALL THINGS EUROPEAN IN EMPIRE; EVEN SIGNS GO

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 13.—The Young Turks have ordered the immediate eradication of all things European from the Turkish Empire. They have ordered the removal of all signs written in Latin or Roman characters and the substitution of signs bearing Turkish characters.

The same order covers druggists' prescriptions and advertisements.

Constantinople today suddenly found itself the greatest labyrinth of mystery in the world.

Two-thirds of the city's $1,500,000 inhabitants are Greeks, Armenians, Jews, or natives of other countries who do not understand Turkish and are unable to find their way about.

Thousands of men are employed in removing objectionable European signs. No line is exempted, even doctors and lawyers are forced to remove their brass plates.

American firms are hard hit. The Standard Oil, the Singer Sewing Machine Company, and several typewriter concerns had thousands of signs all over the city painted in English and European languages.

In several instances they saved the signs by obliterating all words, but leaving the pictures of sewing machines and typewriters.

Pharmacists vainly endeavored to convince the government that this order would endanger the community's health, as they declared all medical formulas had their basis in Latin languages and it was impossible to change the precedents of centuries. The government replied that the druggists must change their methods or go out of business.

Another order prohibits children from wearing sailors' caps bearing the name of any vessel except a Turkish battleship.

German and Austrian merchants obtained a slight concession as they are permitted to have signs painted in their own language provided Gothic characters are used.

CARS CRASH, TWENTY HURT IN ANGEL CITY

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 13.—An Angeleno Heights car today slipped on oily rails and crashed into a Glendale car. Twenty were injured, of whom seven were sent to the hospital. The car windows were shattered.

EASTLAND VICTIMS GET BIG RELIEF FUND CASH

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—Relatives of the victims in the Eastland disaster are receiving every cent of the $475,000 relief fund raised, according to announcements made today.

In 90 per cent of the cases a lump sum will be paid to dependents of the victims. Only 10 per cent prefer pensions.

PASADENA ACCUSED OF BEING 'FIREBUG'

PASADENA, Aug. 13.—F. H. Hamilton, reputed wealthy mining man, is charged with "burning his property to obtain insurance by fraud." It is alleged he fired his handsome home on South Orange Grove avenue for the purpose of collecting $30,000. Detectives are hunting for Hamilton, who is supposed to be in Arizona.

FOUR MEN WHO ARE ENDEAVORING TO DECIDE WHAT SHALL BE THE FATE OF MEXICO.

Today in New York City there is a meeting of South American ministers, who are conferring with Secretary of State Robert Lansing, with a view of outlining some method whereby peace may be brought about in Mexico. It has been stated that the South American conferees are unalterably op-

PASADENA HAS TEN-DAY OPTION ON CINCINNATI BALL TEAM

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—Charles Bultman today told the United Press that he is negotiating for the sale of the Cincinnati Reds. Warren Carter of Pasadena has a ten day option on the team.

WHY NOT DECIDE ON LIAR'S CHAMPIONSHIP

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 13.—Bait casting and fly casting championships of the United States are being decided today at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. Trophies will be awarded the winners of all events, under the rules of the National Association of Scientific Angling Clubs.

After the national championships have been decided the San Francisco Fly Casting Club will take the visiting fly casters on a trip to the club preserve on the Truckee river.

GREENWOOD, S. C., IS ALLIES' MULE MARKET

GREENWOOD, S. C., Aug. 13.—This town has become a market place for the Allies. In the past nine months over five hundred mules have been purchased for shipment abroad. English town agent is in town looking for more mules to feed the Krupps. The amount already paid for the animals is over $50,000. Each mule averages a little better than $110. The mules are shipped to Atlanta, thence to New Orleans, where they are loaded aboard transports for French and English ports.

PORTUGUESE WARSHIP FOUNDERS ON ROCKS

ALTOONA, Pa., Aug. 13.—In a thick fog this morning a speeding Pennsylvania train ran down and killed seven track laborers.

6 DIE, 23 HURT: ZEPPELINS RAID BRITISH COAST; ALLIES ASKED TO ENLIST BULGARIA

LONDON, Aug. 13.—German Zeppelins again raided the East coast of England last night, the war office announces. Six persons were killed and twenty-three injured. The locality affected is not announced. This makes a total of twenty killed and thirty-seven wounded in four days by Zeppelins. Two Zeppelins participated in the raid. The dead include four men and two women; the injured, three men, eleven women and nine children, all civilians. A British air fleet attacked the raiders and damaged one. Incendiary bombs fired fourteen houses.

GERMANS FREE RUSSIAN POLITICAL PRISONERS

WARSAW, Aug. 13.—Germany has granted amnesty to all her political offenders. The citizen's committee suggested the step. Among the liberated Russians was the labor leader Maden, jailed by the Czar.

GERMANS ANNOUNCE TAKING OF SLAV RAIL CENTER

BERLIN, Aug. 13.—The War Office today announces the capture of Siedlitz, an important railroad center between Warsaw and Brestlitovsk. The Bavarians, who are pursuing the Russians, occupied the city.

GRAIN CANCELLATIONS CAUSE DROPP IN WHEAT PRICE

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—The reported wholesale cancellation by the allies of wheat orders today caused a sudden slump in the market. September wheat lost a full cent at the opening and dropped an additional seven-eighths in the first fifteen minutes of trading.

December lost two and one-quarter cents at the opening, but regained one-fourth of a cent in fifteen minutes. Other grains were weak.

GERMAN SUBMARINE SINKS NORWEGIAN STEAMER

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 13.—A German submarine yesterday sank the Norwegian steamer Aura and it is feared the entire crew perished.

AMERICA ANSWERS AUSTRIA MUNITIONS PROTEST

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—The State Department today cabled Ambassador Penfield at Vienna America's reply to Austria's protest against munitions shipments.

It is definitely known that the note upholds the right of America to export munitions to any belligerent.

The Austrian communication held that America's shipments of munitions to the allies were not neutral, as the Teutons could not obtain arms from the same source.

The administration contends that the inability of the Teutons to obtain arms is due to Britain's control of the sea, and denies, therefore, that the shipment of munitions to the allies is any violation of neutrality.

LONDON PRESS URGES ALLIES GRANT BULGARIA'S TERMS

LONDON, Aug. 13.—The local press today urges the allies to make every effort to comply with Bulgaria's demands in order to insure her participation in the war on the side of the allies.

The papers characterize Bulgaria's territorial demands as mostly reasonable.

Premier Radosloff's statement that Bulgaria's armies would attack Constantinople within twenty-four hours of the ceding to Bulgaria of Serbian Macedonia, caused a pleasant surprise here.

Serbia is not disposed to cede Macedonia unless receiving substantial return. Negotiations are now in progress.

SUBMARINES DESTROY THREE SHIPS IN ONE DAY

LONDON, Aug. 13.—A German submarine yesterday sunk the British steamer Summerfield. The engineer, his wife and the first mate perished. Seven of the crew were rescued and have been landed, two of them badly injured.

German submarines also destroyed the Cairn liner Jacana and the steamship Osprey.

FRENCH CLAIM GERMANS FAIL IN ATTACK

PARIS, Aug. 13.—The Germans are still attacking vainly in the Verdun region. They approached via the old Communication works and met terrible slaughter.

SLAYER SUSPECT JAILED; BONES OF JAP FOUND IN BARNYARD

STOCKTON, Aug. 13.—M. A. Primrose, a son-in-law of J. A. Sollinger, a Woodbridge rancher, is charged with murder, following the discovery today of the skeleton of J. Nishinaka, a ranch foreman, in a manure heap.

The Jap mysteriously vanished last October after drawing $1100 in gold to pay Jap laborers.

Shortly after, Primrose displayed a fat roll and was suspected of murder.

He was jailed recently on a bad check charge.

Sollinger is a pioneer of Woodbridge and former instructor in Old Woodbridge College.

PLATTVILLE, Colo., Aug. 13.—This beautiful poem by the poet laureate of Plattville tells the story of the greatest day in the year hereabouts:

Pickles, pickles, pickles,
All that you can eat;
Pickles big and sour,
Pickles big and sweet.

U. S. TAKES CONTROL IN CAPE HAITIEN RIOTING

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Admiral Caperton today reports that Commander Olmsted of the gunboat Nashville has taken complete control of Cape Haitien, owing to increasing factional disturbances.

128 CUBIC FEET IS CORD. RULE SEALERS TO ENFORCE

A cord of wood must contain when properly piled 128 cubic feet of wood.

A cord measure of 8 feet long, 4 feet high and 4 feet wide is a legal measure, and must be followed.

Sales by the tier will not be tolerated. Sales may be by the cord, quarter-cord, half-cord and three-quarter-cord.

C. G. Johnson, state superintendent of weights and measures, has given instructions to city and county sealers to strictly enforce the law relating to the sale of wood.

George McPhee, county sealer, is going to enforce the law in this county. Dealers who have been following the now forbidden practice of selling wood by the tier, three tiers to the cord, with stove wood often less than a foot in length, must note the error of their ways and follow the law, else be prosecuted.

Sealer McPhee's instructions, received today from the state superintendent of weights and measures, follow:

The Instructions
The cord measure of 8 feet long, 4 feet high, and 4 feet wide (a cubic contents of 128 cubic feet), is now a legal measure in the state of California, and shall apply in the sale of wood for fuel purposes, and in the sale of wood in general. There is no custom so erroneous and so susceptible of the commitment of fraud as the trade custom in vogue heretofore by sealers and vendors of this very essential and staple necessity.

The merchants engaged in the sale of wood must arise to the adoption of a uniform measure in the sale of wood, and the basis of competition in this commodity must shift from weight to price. The quart beer bottle, as the result of erroneous competition, has shrunk from 32 ounces to 22 ounces, and the so-called cord of wood (therefore employed in the sale of stove wood) contained 64 cubic feet, or just one-half of the standard measure. A rigid enforcement of the standard cord and its general adoption by the merchants will insure the merchants from an erroneous public opinion as to the honesty of their intentions, and will establish their business on a staple and substantial basis.

Heretofore, the loss in sawing stove wood has been calculated against the delivery of wood. A cord of 12-inch length has been delivered on a cord basis of 96 cubic feet, or a short delivery as the result of sawing, etc., of 23 percent. Under this ruling, instead of short delivery in cubic feet, the 23 per cent loss will be added to the price, and the 23 per cent of wood will be added to the delivery.

All deliveries of wood must be accompanied by a bill or voucher, or a weigh tag, certifying to the actual amount of wood delivered, in terms of cords or standard sub-divisions of the cord, and these vouchers, bills or weigh tags shall specify the actual amount of wood delivered.

dealers in wood for fuel purposes, of the provisions of this opinion, and give same as much publicity as you can. The "rick" is an adopted term in the sale of wood which has no significance as a standard measure. Its use has established confusion and greatly facilitates the perpetration of fraud in the sale and delivery of wood, and, as a term, intended to indicate a measure, it must be abolished. This also applies to the term "tier," as a standard measure or a sub-division thereof.

Wood should be carefully stowed and well stacked. Straight wood should be placed, or caused to be placed, in the lower part of the pile, and the crooked wood in the upper part thereof, and a reasonable and fair allowance should be made by all corders and vendors of wood for loss sustained by crooked or uneven wood. Any person who may suspect any short delivery, shall have the right to have the same measured and corded, and in case of any short measure appearing, the seller shall, besides paying the cost of cording, make good the deficiency without delay, or be subject to prosecution. The elimination of the perpetration of fraud by the short delivery of wood can only be attained by rigid enforcement of the law. The public has long been a patient victim, and it can only look forward for relief through the medium of your efforts.

While the law gives to the superintendent the power to establish and standardize the "net weight" and "net measure" of common commodities in general, the intent of the law is to fix and adopt and enforce a uniform standard of weight and measure of such commodities, the weight of measure for which, under the present custom of sale, facilitates the perpetration of fraud, or where the present custom of sale prejudices and discriminates against the just equitable interests of the public.

Wood, for fuel purposes, is a common necessity, and it shall only be sold or offered for sale by cord measure, excepting as hereinafter provided.

The "cord" is hereby established as a standard measure. Its dimensions shall be eight feet long, and four feet wide, and four feet high and shall contain 128 cubic feet, well stowed and packed.

In all cases of wood for fuel, the cord of 128 cubic feet shall be the true and legal standard of measure. Any usage, by-law, or ordinance, or custom of any person, firm, or corporation to the contrary, notwithstanding.

The legal sub-divisions of the cord shall be 1/2, 1/4, and 1/8, and these sub-divisions shall be equivalent to the same subdivisions of the cubic feet established to contain in the cord, to-wit:

1/2 cord shall contain 64 cubic feet
1/4 cord shall contain 32 cubic feet
1/8 cord shall contain 16 cubic feet

In the sale of stove wood of any length, the term "tier" or "rick" shall not be used to indicate a standard measure. The term "tier" is hereby defined as wood piled in layers, or piled uniform, so as to conveniently determine volume. A "rick" has no meaning in the sale of wood. One "tier" of wood, eight feet long, and four feet high, and twelve inches wide, equivalent to 32 cubic feet, shall be designated and sold as 1/4 cord. One "tier" of wood, eight feet long, and four feet high, and twenty-four inches wide, equivalent to 64 cubic feet, shall be designated and sold as 1/2 cord.

The lengths into which the wood may be sawed, and offered for sale, shall not in any way effect the cubic volume of the standard cord.

In the sale of wood for fuel, each load, part of load, or parcel of wood shall be accompanied by a voucher or tag, certifying to the number of cords or part of cord of wood in each load, and such voucher or tag shall state the true measure of wood delivered.

No provision or part of this opinion shall be construed to prevent the sale of box-wood or kindling, or cut lumber by the load.

To Detect Counterfeit Money

"The government has at last found a mechanical device," says a Chicago telegram, "which will within two minutes detect the most skilful counterfeit of paper money of any kind, bond, railroad or other ticket or coupon. It is the invention of two Chicago men, Capt. Thomas I. Porter, in charge of the Chicago office of the United States Service, and Porter C. D. Rautberg, one of his operatives. The device consists, briefly, of a plate of the finest French glass, divided into two sections, each of which is ruled by fine, diamond cut lines into an infinity of tiny squares. Numbers along one side of the frame and letters along the other side give each tiny square an individual designation. A genuine bill is placed under the glass on one side and a suspected counterfeit under the other, each perfectly adjusted. Then every shade and every line of the counterfeit which is the thousandth part of an inch different from the genuine stands out in glaring contrast.

"The process is so simple that any bright boy can detect a counterfeit with it. Each square of the suspected bill is compared with the corresponding square of the genuine and the differences are plain. Not even photography makes perfect copies of an engraving, so that there are plenty of defects in every bogus bill."

Exports in July

Exports from Southern California points in July totaled $224,613 as against $250,885 for the same month a year ago. Los Angeles' share of the export trade was $129,885; from Calexico, $57,887; from San Diego, $6915, and from Tia Juana, $19,222. Mexico took the principal part of the exports in manufactured cotton, ammunition and machinery. To Chile went $43,400 of fuel oil and Canada took $20,000 worth of oranges. Seventeen thousand dollars of oil went to Hawaii. Exports through the Panama canal to Atlantic seaports for the last month amounted to $194,500.

BRITISH LABOR IS WORKING WITH AND FOR THE BRITISH FLAG

LONDON, Aug. 1.—(By Mail).—"British labor is today working hand in hand with the government to save the nation. That, for the moment, is the status of British labor. But—after it is all over British labor will have something to say to the British government."

"This was today the unqualified statement to the United Press of Ramsey MacDonald, member of Parliament and leader of the British Socialists.

The "something" that British labor will have to say to the government after the war, according to MacDonald, is that, "war is unnecessary and the elements that make war possible must be wiped out."

"But in the meantime," continued MacDonald, "British labor has come to the stage of realization that the government must be helped out of its difficulty and inevitably British labor must forget the past and look to the future by helping the government fight for its existence."

British trades union members and leaders are now in khaki by thousands and tens of thousands and putting in hard licks in war munitions factories and other government work, declared MacDonald.

"Do you mean that labor henceforth will overlook all its industrial grievances and postpone these grievances and strikes until after the war?" was asked.

"For the present labor is forced to give in. It is inevitable at this time," answered MacDonald.

Labor leaders do not object to Walter Long's national registry bill requiring all persons in England between the ages of 15 and 65 to declare their fitness for war work, but they look upon it as something that may lead to a form of conscription, according to MacDonald. He added:

"This bill embraces the provision of compulsory registration and lays down certain penalties. I hardly think it will result in conscription but in the hands of a clever minister it can be brought around and twisted to assume practically the same form. British labor cannot object to this because its hands are tied by the penalties exacted, but the workmen of this country will violently object to absolute bald military conscription because it is unnecessary. The government has been informed of the workmen's intention, and that is to stay in the fight and help save the country. When the country is saved the workmen will say what they have to say."

British labor, MacDonald concluded, would hardly attempt any national tie-up, even in the event of impending military conscription, but would oppose such an issue in every other possible way.

Japs Buy Sugar Plant

The sugar plantation and mills of the Kona Development Company at Kona, Hawaii, have been purchased by a Japanese syndicate for $900,000. Although Japanese have financial interests in several Hawaiian plants, the Kona plantation is the first to pass completely to Japanese control. The property transferred comprises one of the oldest sugar plantations on the islands, although not one of the largest. Its annual production exceeds 3000 tons.

FLIES AID FIGHT OF TURKS: ARE TERROR FOR THE ALLIES

LONDON, Aug. 1.—(By Mail).—"The allied forces in the Dardanelles are not only fighting Turks but a formidable army of flies.

Turks, writes a correspondent from Gallipoli.

Food is black with flies the instant it is brought to light and sleep is almost impossible due to the constant buzzing attacks of the winged enemy. Jam, which enters largely into the sweets of army stores, is pounced upon greedily and it is only by dexterous and long practiced maneuvers that a soldier is able to beat the flies to the eating of it.

Midsummer in Gallipoli finds the soldier wearing khaki drill, shorts, trousers that end just above the knee. Cigarettes on the peninsula are an absolute luxury, according to the correspondent. The soldiers are willing to pay a heavy price for cigarettes sold by small Greek "canteens," behind the allied lines. The cigarettes are made in Germany but the troops smoke them just the same.

BANK REVIEW OF WAR: NO SIGNS OF RUNNING OUT OF CASH

(From the L. A. Financial News.)

"There are no signs that either side is running out of men or money or that the people of any of the warring countries are weakening in resolution or confidence." This is the way the National City Bank of New York starts its review of the war, from a financial viewpoint, which has just been issued.

"The war expenditures have equalled the most extravagant predictions," says the review. "The fighting has been continuous and the casualties appalling, but the results signify practically nothing as to when the conflict will end. There are no signs that either side is running out of men or money, or that the people of any of the warring countries are weakening in resolution or confidence. The developments of the war itself have shown the futility of annexing hostile populations; they cannot be dispossessed of the territory or compelled to be loyal citizens, and while they swell the volume of domestic trade and pay taxes, they cost at least as much as they contribute. If all the responsible ministries had known as much a year ago as they know now it is safe to say that the peace would not have been broken, and if they could know now as much as they will a year hence it is probable that a peace conference would not long be deferred.

Extent of War Loans

"Excluding Italy, when came into the war at the end of the tenth month, and for which new figures of expenditure and loans are available, the war loans of the combatants have aggregated approximately $15,500,000,000. The total indebtedness of these countries at the outbreak of the war, including the debts of the several states of the German empire, was approximately $25,000,000,000, but a large portion, perhaps one-half, represented investments in revenue-producing utilities, so it is safe to say that the debt which must be carried by taxation has been more than doubled.

"The expenditures of the German government are probably next to those of Great Britain. The government has realized $2,400,000,000 by means of war loans, which, it is understood, will carry the war into this coming fall, but as its expenditures have been growing it is probable that they are now as much as $10,000,000 per day. Altogether, the estimates of $50,000,000 per day for the outlays of all the governments is seen not to be improbable.

Summing up the war's effect upon the world's commerce, the review estimates the total efficiency at about 75 per cent of normal. About 1,000,000 tons of shipping have been destroyed. Although this is only 2 per cent of total, the entire loss to commercial service, including ships interned and commandeered for war service, is approximately 15 per cent.

"Great Britain has maintained her foreign trade very well. Her exports in June amounted to $166,000,000, which compares with $199,999,999 in June, 1914, or a falling off of about 16 1/2 per cent. The demoralization of international trade and the withdrawal of men from industry has caused a rise in the costs of production and in living expenses, particularly in the warring countries."

The war is teaching the people of Europe economy. The most important lesson for this country which the National City Bank sees in the war is the need of greater economy here.

Correcting Mistaken Idea

"There is a common but mistaken idea that wealthy people render a public service by spending money in extravagant living. This is on the theory that they are distributing it, but they would distribute it just as effectively if they paid it out for an industrial investment and in that event, instead of there being nothing to show for the disbursement, there would be a permanent addition to the productive wealth of the country. Thus, if $10,000 is spent upon a dinner, there is indeed a 'distribution' for music, flowers, service, etc., but if the same sum is spent for draining a swamp, a permanent 'distribution' occurs, and there is also a permanent increase in the food supply of the community."

"It would be a fine thing for every citizen of this country to save money enough to provide in comfort for his old age; that is an admirable purpose in itself, but when it is considered that in so doing he would not only protect himself, but help to place his country in the forefront of the world's industrial progress, another motive is added, worthy in itself of a national propaganda."

After summarizing crop prospects and business conditions throughout the United States, all of which the report finds to be good, this statement is made: "The industrial revival has now reached the stage where, with the additional impetus that may be expected from a good crop, it should include nearly all lines and assure a satisfactory state of general trade this fall. In some lines of production, particularly in branches of the steel industry, the point has been touched where more capacity is wanted and the stimulus of orders for additional plant equipment is felt. The report warns the public, and more especially laborers engaged in work on war orders, of the reaction that must inevitably come in war order business when the war is over.

SUFFRAGE ARMY HOLDS MEETING AT OLD HOME LUCY STONE

ORANGE, N. J., Aug. 13.—Lucy Stone's old home, which stands in the Italian section of Orange, was the meeting place today of the generals of the four women suffrage armies of the states of New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts.

The house standing at 16 Hurbit street, Orange, is regarded as the Boston Bay of American women, for it was here that Lucy Stone in 1857 made her famous protest against taxation without representation.

As the protest took place before the days of the automobile or other similar luxuries, the rude arm of the law entered the home and took Baby Alice Stone Blackwell's cradle.

The house, fronted by a well kept garden and fenced in, is now the home of one Matthew Masi, an Italian druggist who has a wife and three children, and whose chief pride is in his garden.

When asked if he was in favor of woman suffrage, "I vote yes, certain," said he. "Lady talk Italian, she say Mazzini and Garibaldi believed freedom good for women. This good country, women ask, men give and make folk happy."

When asked if his wife would give the bambino's cradle for the vote, "No, no, no, no, no vote instead. My wife she like to vote but no lose cradle."

RESERVE BANKS FURNISH CASH FOR MOVING OF CROPS

(From L. A. Financial News.)

Resources of the Federal Reserve Banks will be available to finance the crop movement, the preliminary plans having already been worked out by the Federal Reserve Board. Although the board applies its plan to wheat, corn and all other cereals, it devotes most attention to the cotton crop, which, it says, is peculiarly sensitive to abnormal conditions such as now exist in the export trade. Usually the crop movement has been taken care of by government deposits in banks or the issue of emergency currency under the Aldrich-Vreeland act, which expired last month. In place of these agencies, the board states, there is ample authority in the Federal Reserve act to meet the situation this fall. The board in its letter says:

"In view of the large surplus reserves now held by the Federal Reserve banks by member banks and by other banks throughout the country, there should be no difficulty in affording the producers the assistance necessary to enable them to market their products in volume corresponding to the power of the trade to absorb them. In order to accomplish this end it is suggested that Federal Reserve banks adopt a definite policy with reference to rediscounting paper secured by documents in satisfactory form evidencing the ownership of stored agricultural products.

"Through such a policy, together with proper methods of warehousing, Federal Reserve banks can be a potent factor in assisting the normal movement of staple agricultural products from the field to the factory or to the consumer. It is recommended that the regulations governing the rediscount of notes covering advances on such products be issued by such of these Federal Reserve banks whose members are actively engaged in financing the movement of such crops to the market. Federal Reserve banks should be particularly point out to their members that they are prepared to rediscount the notes of farmers and merchants secured by proper warehouse receipts for cotton, and accompanied by evidence of insurance."

Member banks, the letter says, which offer these notes to Federal Reserve banks for rediscount, should be ready to state the grade and market value of the cotton and the notes should be in the customary collateral form, providing the right to call for additional security in event of material decline in market value. "The amount to be advanced would be left primarily to the judgment of the member bank," says the letter.

The board suggests that the reserve banks call attention to their member banks to the desirability of reserving storage space for such cotton as is to be used as security for loans in localities where warehouse facilities are inadequate. The letter says that, while there is not sufficient warehouse space in the south to take care of the entire cotton crop, there is probably ample facility for the proper storage of all cotton likely to be pledged for loans. Similar means may be taken to aid in financing other agricultural products, the letter says, wherever there is available a system of warehouses or other approved means of storing and certifying.

LEG FRACTURED

William Varne, an Italian fruit peddler of Westminster, was thrown out of his wagon and had his left leg broken near the hip, when his horse became frightened by an electric car near Garden Grove late yesterday afternoon. Varne had just succeeded in quieting his horse after it had threatened to bolt when passing a gasoline pump, and the clang of the street car completely frightened the horse.

HUNTINGTON BEACH

MORE ATTENDING G. A. R. CAMP AS DAYS PASS AT HUNTINGTON

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 13.—The third day of the Grand Army Encampment showed an attendance somewhat larger than on the previous days. A considerable number of veterans from Santa Ana and other points in Orange county came over for a few days of tenting and some came from other counties.

The morning was devoted to informal reunions by states, a number of which had special headquarters. Probably the greatest number of registrations are from Illinois and Iowa regiments.

A considerable number of the veterans had their uniforms out for dress parade and while there were not quite so many in this part of the program as formerly, they were very proud that they were able to make as good a showing as they did.

The flag of the camp has been raised with appropriate ceremonies and duly saluted. It now floats over the camp day and night.

The afternoon program was one of jokes and fun and was attended by a goodly share of the campers. The townspeople, however, did not get out very much during the day until the evening program which was given by the Jesse Benton Fremont Tent of Los Angeles, Daughters of Veterans. They were assisted by several of the members of the Sons of Veterans but not by the whole camp.

The program was arranged in the form of an old style apple paring with the various stunts brought out as incidents. The program was arranged by Mrs. Carroll Marks, past president of the organization. She was ably assisted by Mrs. Edward Wadsworth, department secretary, who drilled the team of sixteen in the grain and sickle drill which was presented near the close of the program.

The leading part in the playlet was taken by the department president, Mrs. Florence Haines. Mrs. Frances Granger acted as pianist.

A ladies' quartette from the Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle gave several selections during the course of the evening and were encored every time they appeared. The leading singer had a fine and especially clear soprano voice and the others harmonized nicely with her.

"Father and Mother" and a group of young people of the neighborhood were gathered in the large open dining room and living room for an apple paring. The work progressed with all the speed that might be expected and as the paring proceeded conversations, conundrums, songs, readings and stunts of various kinds proceeded with a suitable quantity of stage business to give all the "local coloring" necessary to the scene.

Toward the close of the program the "Gleaners" appeared in the grain and sickle drill which was performed with unusual accuracy and precision. The young ladies, all members of the Jesse Benton Fremont Tent, went through the various evolutions of the drill in a surprisingly accurate and successful manner.

The program closed promptly at 9 o'clock in order to enable any of the performers who found it necessary to catch the car for Los Angeles.

LARGE CROWD ATTENDS WATER CARNIVAL

Thursday evening's water carnival at the Athletic Club drew a large crowd which seemed to thoroughly enjoy the water sports. Many older people were to be seen in the crowd, something that is a little new and shows that the older ones enjoy play and amusement of this kind.

The relay race was a fast and exciting match and was won by the Indians by a narrow margin. Sprout, Kendall, and Mitchell swam for the Indians, while Wallace, Minnix and Cone swam for the All Stars.

In the wrestling match which was a hard fought battle, Wallace, Kendall defeated Sprout and Vance after a long and exciting struggle which greatly excited the spectators.

The tilting contest proved the most exciting stunt of the evening. In the first match Cone defeated Lindsey three to one in a very good battle. In the second match between Kendall and Vance, Vance fell against the retaining wall of the plunge and was forced to discontinue the bout. Foley substituted and after a fast and furious scrap was overbalanced and the contest went to Kendall.

The float padding contest between Cone and Mitchell was won by Mitchell by a very close shave.

Other attractions on the program were fancy diving and a demonstration of how to rescue and revive a drowned or drowning person. All stunts were well received and for next Thursday a number of new ones will be introduced.

WITH PITCHFORK, MRS. PLEASANTS DRIVES OFF BULL GORING HUSBAND

Animal Probably Would Have Killed Man Had Not She Acted Fearlessly

With a pitch fork Mrs. J. E. Pleasants drove a vicious bull away from her husband, and doubtless saved his life. Pleasants had been knocked down and was being gored by the animal when Mrs. Pleasants came to the rescue.

Pleasants is county bee inspector, and one of the few remaining men who resided in this section before the seventies. Though 77 years of age he is hale and hearty, and continues to keep up his ranch in the Santiago canyon. He has some stock on the place. Several days ago he owned an 18-months-old bull. The day after the bull tried to kill his owner, he was sold to a butcher.

The attack came as a surprise to Pleasants, who had his back turned toward the animal when suddenly the bull put his head down and made a run. Pleasants was lifted into the air, and had no sooner struck the ground than the bull was upon him.

Pleasants' yells for help brought quick results. Mrs. Pleasants seized a pitch fork and ran into the pen. Mrs. Pleasants was not at all tender in her method of handling the fork. She jabbed the beast on the nose and kept on jabbing, with the result that the bull backed away. That gave Pleasants an opportunity to get up and set out of the pen. Mrs. Pleasants then made her escape.

Although Pleasants was frightfully bruised, no bones were broken and no serious results from his experience likely so far as Pleasants is concerned. The serious results so far as the bull was concerned have already taken place—he is hanging in pieces in a meat market.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL NEWS NOTES FROM ORANGE CITY

ORANGE, Aug. 13.—Taken suddenly ill while here on a visit less than two weeks ago, Mrs. Mary E. Morgan of Los Angeles died early this morning at the O. A. Waldorf home on North Center street. Mrs. Morgan was a former resident of Orange whose death will be mourned by many old friends in the community.

A week ago last Saturday, July 31, she arrived from Los Angeles for a visit at the Waldorf home. The next day she suffered a slight stroke of paralysis and was in a critical condition for two days. Gradually she began to rally and until two days ago she seemed to be recovering. Then came a sharp relapse and she failed rapidly. The end came last night shortly after midnight.

Mary E. Thomas was born in Roanoke County, Virginia, September 27, 1839. She was married to M. T. Morgan, December 28, 1854. They moved to Orange in 1895 and the death of Mr. Morgan occurred here in 1907. After his death Mrs. Morgan lived for awhile with her son, James, but later moved to Los Angeles where she made her home for the last several years. She was the mother of Mrs. A. J. Waldorf.

Four sons and six daughters were born to Mrs. Morgan, all but one daughter surviving her. They are Mrs. Molly Wright, Mrs. Eliza Cheesman, Mrs. Fannie Thompson, Mrs. Allie Hartle and Frank Morgan, all of Missouri; Mrs. A. J. Waldorf, of Los Angeles; John W. Morgan, of Buttonwillow, Kern County, Cal.; Charles Morgan, of Victorville, and James Morgan, of Chloride, Arizona. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Waldorf, Mr. and Mrs. James Morgan and Charles Morgan were with their mother at the last.

The funeral has been set for tomorrow at the Christian church in this city.

The Christian Sunday school class of boys, taught by Fred Bates, enjoyed a social gathering last evening, the affair being planned as a farewell surprise on Arthur Warner, one of the number who soon leaves to make his home in Utah.

The boys went to the Santiago creek for a wienie bake and later adjourned to their teacher's home, where they were entertained with games and other pastimes. Ten lads were present.

Mrs. Allen Kuhn of Norfolk, Neb., and Mrs. Herman Long of Wakefield, Neb., arrived yesterday for a visit with their mother, Mrs. C. G. Miller and family of South Orange street. Mrs. Kuhn visited here three years ago, but Mrs. Long had not seen her relatives for nine years.

Mrs. J. C. Jacob and sons, of Prado, are visiting with relatives in Olive. Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Crawford and daughter, Hazel, accompanied by Roy Crawford of Buttonwillow, returned home yesterday after a visit at that place.

Miss Harriet Smith and Miss Catherine Barrett have been making a short visit with the C. Z. Bates family on East Palmyra avenue. They are on their way from San Diego to Yosemite and will later visit San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Kranz of Great Falls, Mont., arrived here yesterday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. H. Shipke, who formerly lived in Montana.

Among today's Los Angeles visitors were T. M. Shadel, Leon Shadel, Dr. Gerald Farwell, Miss Hull, Mrs. Kogler and Miss Florentine Dierker.

MAKING THE BEST OF A BAD BOTCH

The Register is pleased to note that Street Superintendent O'Brien is making the best of a bad job by filling in the chuck-holes in our paved streets with a mixture of crushed rock screenings and liquid asphalt.

Under the circumstances, this is probably the best that can be done. That is, it would be very expensive to dig out the depressed surface of the chuck-holes and resurface smoothly with asphalt, and probably the money for so doing is not now available. At all events, what is now being done is better than to have the chuck-holes as they were. So let us be thankful for small favors.

The point is, that there should never have been any chuck-holes. Those who excavated the streets should, at their own expense, have restored the surface to the perfect condition in which they found it.

And while we are on this subject, we feel impelled to inquire why repairs are made with materials of different colors and textures from those of the general street surfacing, and different from each other. The result is like that which would be produced if a lady darned her black silk stockings with gray yarn in one place and brown cotton in another, or patched her husband's dark pants with light gray and olive green cloth.

The mischief is done on North Main street and on Fourth street, and is now, from a practical point of view, irremediable. But if the people of Santa Ana permit their handsomeness to be paved streets—like Broadway and Sycamore and South Main—to be mutilated and ruined as North Main and Fourth have been, they are more long-suffering than we think they are.

We feel encouraged to hope and believe that the powers that be will not perpetrate or permit any such outrage.

THE LAND OF FLOWERS

Quick now, what country is called the Land of Flowers?

Japan? No, you're wrong. Japan used to be the "Flowery Kingdom," but its title has passed. Where do you think? Alaska. Yes, Alaska is the land of flowers now. If you don't believe it, we refer you to the United States Department of Agriculture.

"It has long been known that Alaska is a land of flowers," says the latest report of the Alaska agricultural experiment stations.

Last summer the United States station at Fairbanks, Alaska, purely as an incident to its regular crop work, and devoting no time to the flowers except in the evening after the regular day's work, raised sweet peas, pansies, pink, asters, poppies, marigolds, daisies and a few others. The sweet peas made a growth of over eight feet. The station has a pansy wheel with sixteen spokes and a circumference of seventy-five feet, with four great stars and two anchors, grown from pansy seeds which dropped from the plants of the year before. Private flower gardens in and around Fairbanks are famous.

Flowers grow in great profusion all over Alaska, and the settlers are very proud of their flowers. The garden of Mrs. Wm. M. Conley of Valdez, southwestern Alaska, shows what southwestern Alaska can do. She is raising quantities of beautiful nasturtiums, sweet peas; Oriental, Iceland, Shirley, California and double poppies; stocks, golden glow, snap-dragon, asters, bachelor's button, cannas, daisies, schizanthus, linum, nemophila and many other kinds.

The prospective settler in Alaska need have no fear about beautifying the house or cabin. Alaskan flower gardens are going to be famous.

A SQUARE DEAL

For violation of the speed ordinances, it is common for a large number of accused to appear before a judge. If found guilty, they are fined or sent to jail. Is this fair? Is not the one sent to jail because he has no money being imprisoned by reason of his poverty? He owes a debt to the state. He is locked up on account of this debt.

Fined five or ten dollars, the owner of a machine scarcely is conscious of discomfort. He is far more annoyed by the trouble of having to go to court, than by the costs attending the visit. To the occasional offender who has not the five or ten, even twenty-four hours in a cell may be a tragedy. He feels disgraced. It is possible that he may lose his position. He suffers just as keenly through the experience as would the well-to-do fellow criminal who jauntily pays up and whisks away. Some just basis ought to be established.

There should be fines for all or imprisonment for all, and no distinctions. If a rich man breaks the speed law, endangering life, he should go to jail, if the poor man is to go there for a similar act. If the rich man is fined, the poor man should be fined, in strict justice, a smaller sum, since to the first the fine would represent no hardship. But supposing the fines to be equal in amount, the poor man should have a reasonable period in which to pay. Then failure to pay would be contempt of court, and it would be time to put him in jail. Before the law, rich and poor should be equal, and they are not.—Pasadena News.

Sacramento-to-Ocean Canal

The State Engineering Department will begin the survey of the proposed route of a sea-level canal from Sacramento to the bay next month, as soon as the 1915 appropriation is available. The survey will be made for the purpose of showing the feasibility of a deep-water ship canal independent of the Sacramento river. The proposed canal, it is estimated, could be constructed for $3,000,000.

SOCIETY BUDS ON ENGLISH FARMS
HARNESS TEAM,
MILK COWS,
TOSS HAYBY WILBUR S. FORREST
[United Press Staff Correspondent]

LONDON, July 24.—(By Mail.)—London society has milked its first cow.

It has milked its first goat; pitched its first hay; harnessed its first horse and churned its first butter.

It's one of the many revolutions of war.

War is hell—on the farmer. London society has come to the farmer's rescue. He needs help. All his hands have gone to war. Why not women? somebody said. The society gave London's society a chance to be useful.

In the very heart of fashionable West End, within earshot of Buckingham Castle there was laid a model farm. No. 16, Carlton house Terrace, the home of Lord Cowdray and the adjoining residential grounds of the Earl of Lonsdale were requisitioned by society working under the auspices of the Land Council of the National Political League. The object was to teach women how to farm—to take the place of men who have left the plow to shoulder the rifle.

The opening day of the "farm-school" found a buxom Jersey cow complacently grazing on the short-cropped and well-tended grass under the aristocratic windows of Carlton House Terrace. A resplendent rooster, perched on a balustrade, watched over a bevy of fussy hens scratching in the gravel of the driveway. Near by, not far down the drive, stood a team of heavy-footed draft horses hitched to a vehicle that looked suspiciously like an American hayrack. A ton of hay lay near by waiting for some one to come along and pitch it. Likewise a half dozen shiny milkpails and a huge milk can were waiting for the milkmaids to begin on the Jersey cow.

A churn on the lawn of Carlton House evidenced what the milk was coming to.

A pair of fat, sleek "mamma" goats next appeared. They arrived through the big front gate where an immaculate butler took them in charge. Like the cow they came to give their milk. A flock of muddy white ducks waddled up to inspect the goats.

Then arrived the "farmgirls" and "farmboys" who had pledged themselves to teach hundreds of the poorer sisters the art of farmwork put in appearance clad in regulation sunbonnets and gingham.

The Hon. Mrs. Graham Murray was the chief dairymaid. The patient Jersey was brought around and submitted to being "milked." It was hard work for some but they rolled their sleeves about fascinating forearms and took turns at "Bossy" who submitted without a "moo" or a kick. The milk passed into the big can to await its fate at the churn.

At various spots about the great lawn other society debutantes were taught to harness the horses, pitch the hay, feed the chickens and ducks, tend a hive of bees and how to catch a chick.

After a dinner of simple farmlike fare, the "farmer maids" gathered on the lawn to hear a series of lectures by agricultural experts.

The Land Council of the National Political League expects to train hundreds of young women in the art of farm work—but activities will soon be transferred to less aristocratic surroundings.

Federal Bank Money Makers

The first report on operations of the twelve Federal Reserve banks, made public this week, shows that the system earned $918,588 from November 16, 1914, to June 30 last, while expenses were $894,117. Only five of the twelve, Richmond, Atlanta, Dallas, New York and Chicago, earned more than they spent. The Richmond bank made the best showing, with net earnings of 7.5 per cent on the capital invested. St. Louis made the poorest showing with expenses of 5.4 per cent greater than earnings. Although under the law the banks are allowed dividends up to 6 per cent after expenses are paid, it is said at the Treasury Department that none planned to declare dividends at this time. About 60 per cent of the money earned by all of the banks was through discount of notes.

SINGLE STANDARD OF MORALS FOR
SEXES IS PLEA
OF SCIENTIST

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 13.—Did God make women to be morally superior to men? Prof. Thomas W. Shannon, president of the Single Standard Eugenic movement and editor of "Practical Eugenics," thinks not. And, he says, unless men rise to the higher plane of morality which obtains among women, then women will soon sink to the lower plane of morality prevalent among men, or both sexes will meet on a compromise plane of morality, threatening the vitality of the human race.

Prof. Shannon, who had come on from the headquarters of the movement, Delaware, Ohio, to attend the recent International Purity Congress, remained in the city a few days to see the fair.

Women Ever Held Higher
"In every land, in all ages, among all races," he said, "barbarous and civilized peoples have held a higher standard of morals for women than men. In our penal institutions seven times as many men as women are found. Men drink a barrel of whisky where women drink a pint; they sow their wild oats, where women sow purity and love. Are these social and moral differences conclusive evidence that men are inherently more depraved than women? For ages man's selfish interests have led him to affirm this. Women's acquisitive nature and fondness for compliments have led her to accept the opinion.

"That women have been and are better by practice than men I cheerfully admit; that they are inherently better, I positively deny.

Men Less Continent
"A perverted public sentiment tolerates and fosters the inconsistencies of profanity, tobacco, alcohol and vice in men and condemns these habits as unpardonable sins when indulged in by women. By practice men are less continent than women for no other reason than that public sentiment permits them to be; women are better than men for no other reason than that public sentiment compels it.

"Savage selfishness placed woman on a pedestal of purity from which she could not afford to descend.

"Our savage ancestors stoned to death the wayward woman and let the equally guilty man go free. We socially ostracize the erring woman, force her into obscurity, into hideous diseases, an untimely death and an unmarked grave. For centuries we have denied her child of unfortunate birth the social and civil rights dear to the heart of every human being. We permit the equally or more guilty man to go unmolested, and if he chooses, to become a national reformer.

Defectives Quadrupled
"While we are doubling our normal population we quadruple our defectives. Every ten to fifteen years we double the capacity of our penal and feeble-minded institutions. Eighty per cent of our children are physically defective at birth, and more than ten per cent are mentally defective in childhood. We are beginning to realize that we are facing a race crisis. We have imposed heavy taxes upon the normal classes, forcing them to support a million pauper, criminal and mental defectives, while we have left public sentiment encouraging the chief causes of degeneracy. Dealing with effects instead of removing the causes has been one of the supreme weaknesses of reform effort.

"If the double standard of morals is responsible for nine-tenths of the incontinent practices by men, and these habits are responsible for nine-tenths of race degeneracy, then the teaching of a consistent standard of morals is the only practical and rational solution of these problems.

Sex Readjustment Necessary

"A readjustment of the sexes is now possible, necessary and inevitable. When the natural restraints forced upon women in the past shall have been fully removed, women will gravitate to the level of men, or men must rise to the plane of respectable womanhood, or they will yield to each other and meet on a compromise plane.

"There are more men and women of character today than ever before. While this is true, owing to the gradual removal of unnatural restraints thrown about women in the past, there is a marked and growing tendency among an ever increasing number of women to indulge in liberties formerly indulged in by men only. Unless this tendency is overcome by the immediate and universal teaching of a consistent single standard of morals, it will continue until the sexes meet on a low or compromise plane. In the past men and women have lived on separate planes. In the future they must rise and fall together."

A well attended meeting of the Fraternal Brotherhood lodge was held last evening in Anaheim, a large number of delegates from Olinde and Orange and forty members of the Santa Ana Brotherhood being present, the latter lodge in charge of the installation of the Anaheim officers.

P-T. A. Story Hour

Eighteen children and one adult were entertained last Saturday at the Washington school and at the Intermediate school thirty-three children and one adult. Miss Hill at the Washington school told the little ones "how the elephant got his trunk" and two other stories by the same author. She retold, by request, the little original story "The Dog With the Green Tail," which had delighted the little ones last week.

At the Intermediate school Miss Ruth Inwood told "The Bluebird." She caught and held the attention in her charming interpretation of this story of happiness. She closed with an ever-welcome "Uncle Remus" story.

Volunteers from those who love children well enough to prepare a thirty-minute period of stories or to look up a good selection to read to the older ones are much needed. The committee members have asked many whom they know had special training and a few have responded. They will appreciate any help. Please call up Miss Hill, phone 1126 W. if you by yourself or with a friend, can take charge of the little ones or Miss Remus, phone 907 R. if you care to help with the older ones.

Tomorrow Mrs. George Thacker will have the upper grade children, and Miss Mary Collins the lower grades.

STUDY CLUB MEETS

Human Work Was the Subject For An Interesting Discussion

The Woman's Independent Study Club met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. I. H. Hall, 115 South Sycamore street, with a large attendance of members and visitors.

Mrs. Elsie Umatham acted as chairman. After the business meeting was closed Mrs. Wilson, organizer took charge of the study of Parliamentary Rules, explaining from a chart which she had drawn for the occasion.

Mrs. Umatham announced the subject of the day, "Human Work," and read one of Mrs. Charlotte Perkins Gilman's poems on "Women." Mrs. Wilson read another of Mrs. Gilman's poems, entitled "Coming."

Mrs. Umatham took up the subject by reading from Meta L. Starnes' pamphlet on "Human Work," describing the work of women past, present and as it should be in the future. Discussion followed.

Mrs. Wilson read an article from the pen of Robert G. Ingersoll, on "Reform," taking the thought that reform can never come from legislation, preaching or teaching, while the cause of crime still remains. The birth of ignorance in poverty and degradation, overcrowding in slums or tenements leads to the deepest grades of impurity in thought, word and deed.

Undesirable births, moved to high places, children, seldom rise to high places. Mrs. Umatham took the defense. She said that the children of the poor were their only source of pleasure and therefore better loved than the children of the rich, as the rich found their pleasures in their possessions. That here again economic conditions were the cause of the large families of the poor. If there were more of true enlightenment in those homes, there would be less of the lower vices.

Work for the working hours, with fitting recompense, legitimate and pure pleasure with chance for improvement of mind for the hours of leisure, as they should be, and sleep for the hours of rest, each making for higher enlightenment. Mrs. Cruthers read a short selection on Vice and Virtue in connection with women's attitude toward fallen women, describing as the reason that women of virtue have a feeling of dislike toward the fallen woman, the fact that the virtuous woman receives the same for her virtue as the fallen woman for her vice. Each is working for a master, the one in honor, the other in dishonor. Each receives the same reward, just what man may see fit to give her.

Mrs. Cruthers discussed this phase by saying that when women were economically free that there would be no need for the fallen woman. She need not sell her body for the necessities of life, and the attitude of woman toward the fallen sister was not because of dislike for her personally, but from self preservation.

The true saying of years, "Birds of a feather flock together" has done more harm for women than any other stumbling block she has had, in connection to helping the fellow woman. A rich woman can go anywhere and help one down and out and she is called a philanthropist; but let the poor woman attempt to do the same thing, and she is dubbed one of the flock. To keep her own reputation unblemished, she dare not be seen in company of or even doing a kindness to the degraded one, for fear of what mankind will say of her. Economic freedom is the cure for both cause and effect.

Mrs. Davis answered by saying in part: The question for us is to band together as reformers, throwing out the thought of love that it may shine as a beacon light over the pathway of time, with a hope that it may find its way into the heart of the heavily oppressed. We can all be used by Divine power in giving out the inspiration which will point to man and woman the better way of living. While much has been said there yet remain volumes to do. So let us all help the best we can.

Mrs. Hartley read a paper by Woods Hutchinson, "Filtering the Human System," giving good and helpful thoughts on the problems of the day. She spoke of over-crowding as a stimulus of disease, of better food and separate rooms with plenty of fresh air and sunshine as an eradicator of those diseases subject to heredity and environment.

Mrs. Wilson read another poem by Mrs. Gilman, "We As Women." The next meeting will continue the discussion on "Women of the Future," the subject being "Education." Mrs.

BOY THROWING ROCKS CAUSES AN AUTO CRASH

Probation Officer Scott's automobile is in the shop for repairs. Another automobile hit the probation officer's machine from behind and did it considerable damage.

The man whose business it is to look after bad boys was driving along the street when an 8-year-old urchin made the mistake of shying a rock at Scott's machine. Scott stopped, and began to back up in order to discuss the matter with the boy. About that time another automobile came along, and the aforesaid boy threw a rock at it. The driver of the second machine was busy scowling at the boy, and did not notice the machine in front of him backing up.

Consequence? Collision. Another consequence? Almost anyone can guess what another consequence was when he knows that Probation Officer Scott captured the boy and took him to his parents.

LITTLE BOY'S SKULL IS BROKEN BY COLT'S KICK

Though his skull was fractured yesterday when he was kicked by a colt, little Marion Happenstall, aged 6, is resting quite easily at the Santa Ana Hospital, and the prospects for his recovery from his injury are encouraging. The boy is the son of Charles Happenstall, who owns the old Dunkin ranch, three miles southwest of Santa Ana, west of the E. W. Harmon ranch. Marion went to the stable yesterday to give barley to the horses. As he stepped into the stable a colt playfully kicked at him and struck him on the forehead. The boy's cousin, a little girl ran to the house and told his father. It was half an hour before Marion awoke at all from unconsciousness. He has a cut six inches long on the forehead, and the frontal bone was fractured.

Are you good at spelling? If so, you should read the "Alphabet-Misspelled Word Contest" advertisements in section 2, page 9, today. Two cash prizes of $1.00 each will be given for finding two incorrectly spelled words in the advertisements.

RIVERSIDE GOES AFTER NATURAL GAS SUPPLY IN THIS COUNTY

Committee Named to Act With San Bernardino and Redlands In Project

Riverside is considering the advisability of piping Orange County natural gas to Riverside. The Riverside Chamber of Commerce has appointed C. W. Hickox, S. C. Evans, Oscar Ford, H. A. Hammond and W. E. Dauchy as a committee to act with San Bernardino and Redlands in an investigation into the feasibility of the project.

In a resolution passed by the Riverside Chamber of Commerce attention is called to the fact that the Southern California Gas Company is piping natural gas from the Fullerton field to Los Angeles. Riverside wants to have the same kind of gas as that supplied Santa Ana, Orange, Anaheim and Fullerton. It is declared that the interior cities ought to be able to get gas for half what it now costs and get better gas than the artificial gas now supplied.

Speaking of the resolution, Mr. Hickox said that Los Angeles is now being supplied with nearly pure natural gas for 66 cents the 1000 feet, and it is believed that straight natural gas could be furnished for 50 cents. He had used natural gas for thirty years and could recommend it as far superior to the manufactured product. This is evident from the fact that manufactured gas has only 600 heat units while natural gas has from 900 to 1000 heat units. The ratio of cost with artificial gas is 12 to 7, or nearly one-half the price. Mr. Hickox cited the high price of all sorts of fuel in Riverside.

Mr. Hickox told of interviewing in Los Angeles the head of the Southern California Gas Company, which is installing natural gas in Los Angeles. This has been coming for some time from the Bakersfield fields, but now an eight-inch main is being laid from the Fullerton district, where 60,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas is available every day. Mr. Hickox also told of the gas strike at Brownlands and the possibility that this source of supply might be available for distribution in this district.

Mr. Hickox stated to the Riverside Chamber of Commerce that he had taken up the matter with President Parker of the San Bernardino Chamber of Commerce, and that his organization would act with Riverside in securing natural gas.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

CONSTABLE HELD FOR TRIAL FOR GUN-CLUBBING A PRISONER

Davis Admits He Struck Rentz Four Times, But Says It Was to Stop Him

Held to answer, Constable Eugene Davis of Huntington Beach must appear in the superior court for using his revolver as a club upon the head of Ernest Rentz.

The preliminary examination, held here yesterday before Justice Howard of Anaheim, resulted in an order that the constable be held on a bond of $1000, which was given.

Yesterday on the witness stand, Davis for the first time in court told the story of the affair. When Rentz was on trial on a charge of disturbing the peace, several witnesses related incidents of the arrest. At that time Davis did not testify, it appearing that he would likely be prosecuted for his part in the inflicting of wounds upon Rentz.

Yesterday Davis was put upon the stand by his attorney, H. C. Head. Davis said he arrested Rentz for intoxication and disturbing the peace. Rentz rushed at Davis, and Davis struck him to stop him. A second time Rentz rushed at the officer, and again the officer says he used his revolver as a club. A third rush was met in the same way. Then Rentz was led across the street. He sat down on a vacant lot. He got up and again rushed at Davis, saying he would kill him. Davis then struck him a fourth time. Davis denied using the revolver except as Rentz was attacking him and only for the purpose of stopping him.

Deputy District Attorney Koepsel put on witnesses whose stories of the use of the officer's gun differed widely from the story told by the officer himself.

Dan Ross said that Rentz was sitting on the running board of an automobile, evidently intoxicated, when Davis told him to get up. When Rentz failed to obey, Davis hit him over the head with his revolver. Ross told of other blows struck without any more provocation than failure to obey.

Frank Catchings' mother testified that she saw Davis strike Rentz a heavy blow. Then as Rentz leaned up against an automobile in a dazed manner Davis hit him again. She heard her son say, "Don't hit him again. He is all in." Just as she was turning her face away from the sickening sight, Davis struck Rentz a third time.

Ross and Frank Catchings led Rentz across the street, each taking an arm of the intoxicated man. William Birnie testified that he saw Davis strike Rentz from behind two or three times, as Ross and Catchings were leading Rentz.

Dr. Jones testified that he dressed five wounds on Rentz's head. He said that the man's skull was cracked at a suture.

Warrant Issued

Frank G. Teachout today swore to a complaint against Lupe Bustillo, charging that Bustillo cut around another automobile on the West Chapman street bridge. Teachout ought to know for he was present and saw his automobile wrecked thereby. Bustillo tried to pass a machine in front of him, and ran into Teachout's machine.

Case Dismissed

Rufino Jimenez of Los Alamitos was not tried on a gambling charge this morning when his case was called before Justice Cox. Deputy District Attorney Koepsel asked that the case be dismissed. It was found that some of the testimony that was considered available when the complaint was sworn to was not to be had.

His Case Set

The preliminary examination of Francisco Arellano, charged with robbery of Ed Morris at the Arcade rooming house, was today set for August 20 at 2 o'clock.

AT THE COURT HOUSE

FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY MADE DEFENDANT

Another suit to collect on an insurance policy issued upon property in Los Angeles county has been brought in this county.

The plaintiff in the most recent of the insurance suits is E. Gelgud. The defendant is the Franklin Fire Insurance Company. It is asserted in the complaint filed by a Los Angeles attorney that Gelgud had the furniture in 214 South Ficket street, Los Angeles, insured for $1500. On April 5 the place burned down, and Gelgud asserts that he lost $1664.24 worth of property by fire. He declares that the insurance company will not pay him his claim, and he asks judgment for $1500.

Asks Information

The Board of Supervisors has received a letter from the U. S. engineer's office in Los Angeles for data concerning the county bridge across the Santa Ana river at Newport Bay. It is stated in the letter that the information is to be published in connection with a government report upon all bridges over navigable waters.

For Quiet Title

For the purpose of removing a cloud to titles to property at Fullerton, suit has been brought by J. E. Jones, the B. G. Balcom estate, J. W. Newell and others against T. A. Wimbler as administrator of the estate of Hannah C. Wimbler, who died in New York in 1901. Wimbler recently secured letters upon the estate in order that the quiet title suit might be brought. The property concerned lies in Victoria Square, Fullerton. S. M. Davis is attorney for the plaintiffs.

For Foreclosure

The Bank of Garden Grove, with H. C. Head as attorney, has begun suit to foreclose a $4000 mortgage on forty acres of land. The note concerned was signed in 1910. Edwin M. Bachman is the defendant.

Marriage License

Desire Derouwer, 22, of Tustin, and Marie Vlasschaert, 18, of Santa Ana.

Money Is Secured

Sheriff Jackson has made a return on an execution in the case of Ellie R. Nail against W. C. Milton. The sheriff levied upon a Regal automobile. Milton then paid $439.63, amount of the judgment, and the auto was released.

Sanity in Local Government

"For some time past a charter commission, or a board of freeholders as they are called in the west, has been at work in the drafting of a new city charter for Los Angeles," says the Boston Herald. "A preliminary announcement of its conclusions shows that the charter to be submitted to the voters in the California city will be considerably like the present city charter of Boston. It will provide for a mayor and a city council of nine members elected at large, the nominations to be made by petition and the ballots to bear no party designations. The administrative functions of city government will be concentrated in the hands of the mayor, leaving to the city council the legislative power only."

"This action on the part of the Los Angeles charter-making body is significant in several ways. For one thing it is a severe set-back to the commission form of city government, the friends of which have been fighting hard to secure its adoption by all the cities of the Pacific slope. A year ago, when ex-Mayor Nathan Matthews so vigorously commended the present Boston plan of city government in his book on 'Municipal Charters,' his western reviewers came back with the report that this plan would never gain acceptance anywhere outside the bounds of New England. These critics may soon have good reason to revise their predictions. 'Of all the large cities Los Angeles has been, perhaps, the most thoroughly imbued with the so-called 'progressive' doctrines. It was the first city to use the recall, an expedient which, by the way, it now proposes to throw overboard so far as the city councilmen are concerned. It should consider taking its cue in charter matters from Boston, the city which has been the stronghold of fantastic radicalism. Yet it is a welcome evidence of our steady swing to sanity in local government.'"

Approval of the contract by the Board of Street Railway Commissioners already has been announced. BURGLARS' WERE NONE OTHER THAN GARAGE MEN GETTING TOOLS

Roomer at Madison House Calls Officers; But 'Twas False Alarm

When one of the roomers at the Madison house, above the Maxwell garage, 513-15 North Main street, stood on the back porch and looked down at about 7 o'clock last night she saw two men climbing into one of the back windows of the garage.

The roomer lost no time in telephoning to the police.

"Police! Police! Burglars are breaking into the garage downstairs," the frightened roomer informed the officers.

In a twinkling City Marshal Jernigan, Officer Ryan, Motorcycle Officers Davenport and Ballard and others arrived on the scene as the two "crooks" were calmly making exit through the front entrance of the garage.

Investigation revealed the fact that the two "burglars" were none other than Roy Angle and John Phifer, employees in the garage, who, not having their keys, had climbed through the window in the rear to get some tools.

GETTING SIGNERS TO THE HARBOR PETITIONS

Project Evidently Meets With Favor, Judging From the Reports Received

That there is going to be no great difficulty in getting over 3000 names to the harbor petitions was indicated by reports received today at noon after the petitions were first put in circulation this morning.

"L. L. Shaw and I were out for an hour this morning," said J. C. Metzgar, secretary of the Associated Chambers of Commerce, "and in that time we received over forty signatures to the petition, and not a single man approached by us refused to sign. Not only did they sign, but they signed gladly and expressed themselves as anxious to help the harbor project along."

"I expected to find some who did not understand what it was all about, but we found that the matter has been discussed and has been read about and is well understood."

Today harbor petitions are being circulated here by J. C. Metzgar, L. L. Shaw and G. E. Robinson. This afternoon Metzgar is on a trip to the north end of the county with a view to seeing that the petitions are being properly handled.

Under the law each signer must not only be a voter but must also appear upon the assessment roll of the county as an owner of real estate.

The petition does not ask for a bond issue. It asks the Board of Supervisors to appoint a harbor commission, which shall have the power to make an estimate of how much money is needed for harbor improvement. After that report is prepared it will be within the power of the Board of Supervisors to call a bond election to raise money for harbor work.

$5000 BUILDING TO BE ERECTED CORNER THIRD SYCAMORE

Work is to be started within the next week or ten days on a new building at the southeast corner of Third and Sycamore streets.

The new structure, plans for which will be ready for delivery by Monday, is to cost approximately $5000.

It is to be of brick, one story in height, and will have several store rooms.

Increase in Value
The lot, which is 50 by 125 feet, was purchased by F. W. Stanley of his father, C. H. Stanley, for a consideration of about $12,000. The lot was bought on November 1, 1901, by the elder Stanley for a price of $1500.

F. W. Stanley is employed in the irrigation department of the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. He has been in Santa Ana for the past two weeks, visiting with his father at 1135 West First street. This morning he left for San Diego where he will spend two or three days visiting the fair.

Several Store Rooms
The new building is to be divided into several store rooms. The prospective builder stated this morning that he had as yet made no arrangements as to tenants. The entire ground space will be taken up by the structure.

The announcement that the lot is to be improved is taken as an excellent indication of the prosperity that prevails in Santa Ana at the present time. It is also expected to stimulate other building activities.

"The past few years have seen a great number of improvements in the vicinity of Sycamore and Third and Main and Third streets," said the elder Stanley today. "Since I bought the lot upon which my son is about to build, the post office building, the city hall, the block occupied by the Citizens Commercial and Savings Bank, the building at the southwest corner of Main and Third streets, the Register building and a number of other structures have been built."

MAKING PROGRESS ON NEW ANAHEIM HOTEL

Anaheim Gazette: John Ziegler reports everything progressing nicely with the erection of his new building on the corner of Center and Lemon streets. The new structure when completed will be of three stories, with a basement. It is to be used for hotel purposes. It will be ready for occupancy by the first of the new year.

NEW DWELLING

Anaheim Gazette: Mr. Spaulding will erect a dwelling on Alberta street, in the Zeyn tract.

LAST YEAR'S CITRUS SHIPMENTS EXCEEDED BY 188 CARS TO DATE IS REPORT OF FRUIT EXCHANGE

One hundred and eighty-eight more carloads of oranges and lemons have been shipped to date this year by the Orange County Fruit Exchange than had been shipped by the same date last year.

This year the Exchange has shipped, to date, 1365 cars of oranges and 370 cars of lemons, a total of 1735 cars. In 1914, 1325 cars of oranges and 222 cars of lemons, a total of 1547 cars, had been shipped up to the same time last year.

The receipts from September 1, 1914, to date this year, are $1,114,000, according to figures given out today by the exchange. This figure does not include the returns from about 135 cars.

D. Eymann Huff, manager of the exchange, states that his organization will ship approximately 450 additional carloads of Valencia and 150 cars of lemons before the season closes about November 1.

The Orange County Fruit Exchange controls about 70 per cent of the citrus output of Orange county south of the Santa Ana river.

Riverside Shipments
Riverside Press: Lemon shipments last week were lighter than for the week previous. Twelve cars were shipped, making 405 cars for the season. It now seems certain that the lemon output from the Riverside district this season will be over 500 cars. Ten cars of oranges were shipped from the district last week. Riverside Valencia is selling well in the auction market this week. On Monday the Orchard brand of the National Orange company sold for $4.55 in New York, and in the same market the Kenilworth brand of the Sierra Vista association sold yesterday for $4.60. These figures crowd up very close the returns from the coast districts like Placentia.

Riverside has shipped 3561 cars of citrus fruit this season.

Redlands Shipments
From July 15 to August 5, inclusive, the Redlands district shipped 26 cars of oranges, as compared with 152 cars for the same period last season, the difference in the amount being caused by the fact that this year the growers are holding for the best prices, says the Redlands Review. It is estimated that about 200 cars remain to be shipped. Total shipments to date are 4486 cars, as compared with 4193 cars a year ago. The new crop of oranges is selling well according to the growers of the Redlands district, and indications are that the crop will not be as light as some first thought. It is certain that it will not be a heavy crop by any means, the crop on the sand showing up particularly light in most places this year, but in other sections the trees are well loaded with fruit.

There are some trees in almost every orchard that have but a small amount of fruit on them. The damage many believe was done in the spring by the hail, as many of the groves were in bloom then. The groves more backward in blooming have a fine crop.

LA HABRA CITRUS MEN MAKING BIG SHIPMENTS

These shipments all went over the Pacific Electric. In addition, considerable fruit has been packed at Whittier, as several of the local growers are members of that association.

BUILDING BE ACTIVE IN CITY FALL AND WINTER, SAYS BATES

C. F. Bates, cement contractor, is convinced that the fall and winter will see a period of considerable activity in Santa Ana building and as evidence that operations are already under way states that he secured six cement contracts in four days this week. "One of the contracts was for the C. L. Cotant residence on North Broadway," says Bates. "The Cotant cottage is to have six rooms. H. A. Skiles has the building contract."

"I also secured the contract for doing the cement work on the new six-room residence of Ed Waite on North Broadway. E. W. Smith has the building contract for this job."

"I am also doing the cement work on a five-room residence for Mr. Johnson on McFadden street, east of Glenn avenue. The concrete work on the new Waffle and West garage on West Fifth street is being done by me as well as that on the new buildings on the George E. Marcy ranch, Lemon Heights. FUMIGATION NOW IN FULL SWING THROUGHOUT THE COUNTY

Fumigating outfits have been busily engaged in the citrus districts south of the Santa Ana river for the past two weeks. Within the past day or two fumigation has started in the district north of the river. It is reported that there are at least seven outfits at work in the county, four men being employed on each outfit.

According to County Horticultural Commissioner Roy K. Bishop, the Orange county situation as concerns scale pests is much more favorable this year than it was last year. Black scale is not nearly so plentiful, the commissioner states.

Commissioner Bishop agrees with Prof. C. W. Woodworth on the subject of the spreading of scale. Prof. Woodworth, lecturing at the Unique School of Instructions held at Pomona during this week for the growers of the south, said that the several varieties of scale, the greatest pest the citrus grower has to battle, do not travel from tree to tree but prefer to remain where they are. Thus the spreading is involuntary as far as the scale is concerned. If the little insect were left to its own inclination there would be few trees infected.

Wind was given by Prof. Woodworth as the greatest carrying agent of the scale pests. It has been found that the first tree or row of trees adjoining an orchard badly infested with scale were rapidly taking on large numbers. Commissioner Bishop concurs in these statements.

Prof. Woodworth also declared that birds were responsible for carrying the scale over longer distances and where a remote district suddenly breaks out with scale it is probably due to the fact that they were carried on the feet of birds.

Commissioner Bishop states that orange pickers are largely responsible for the spreading of scale and that packing boxes play but a very small part as carrying agents of the scale.

ORANGE COUNTY LEADS STATE AS A SUGAR MANUFACTURER

That Orange County leads the state in the production of sugar beets as well as in some other products is officially demonstrated in the report of the California Development Board, which reviews the sugar industry as follows:

It is almost forgotten now that the beet sugar industry of the United States originated in California, at Alvarado in Alameda County, which is still one of the seven leading beet sugar counties of the state.

The campaign of 1912-13 in California, with 1612 acres, produced 980,894 tons of beets, with a sugar output of 155,423 tons of sugar, giving the state second place, next to Colorado. For the campaign of 1913-14 California produced, on 80,740 acres, 863,256 tons of beets, which yielded 132,621 short tons of sugar—according to the editor of "Sugar."

"The agricultural Outlook," published by the United States Department of Agriculture, gives the following figures for the 1914-15 campaign in California: Acres harvested, 104,000; beets worked, 1,082,000 short tons; sugar produced, 168,792 short tons.

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Carried Her Safely Through Change of Life.

Cedar Rapids, Iowa.—"At the Change of Life the doctor said I would have to give up my work and take my bed for some time as there was no help for me but to lie still. I took Lydia E. Many people have no faith in patent medicines but I know this is good."—Mrs. E. J. Ricketts, 354 8th Avenue, West, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

THE cardinal virtue in banking and in business is PUBLIC CONFIDENCE. It is the essential asset without which success is impossible. It must be inspired by the personnel of the directors and the management and must be held by conservatism in the policy of conducting the bank's affairs.

This is the attitude taken by the Farmers & Merchants National Bank of Santa Ana since its organization in dealing with the public—and that the public has responded in the generous measure that it has, in entrusting its money to our care, is sufficient evidence that the public views the matter as we do.

CONSERVATION OF OIL IN AMERICA IS MARKED BY PRICE FALL

(From L. A. Financial News.)

"The history of the oil business in the United States during the last fifty years has been marked on the one hand by uninterrupted advancement in the method of producing petroleum and in the amplification of its uses, and on the other by steady decrease in cost to the consumer," says the Standard Oil Bulletin, which paper continues: "Kerosene, once a luxury, has supplanted candles and has been brought within the reach of the most modest household. Oil stoves have displaced coal burners. Gasoline for the motor is cheaper than fodder for the horse. In short, the wonderful growth of the oil industry has added enormously to the national wealth, and has been a great factor in the happiness and comfort of the people."

"That all this development is consistent with and in furtherance of conservation cannot be denied. In point of fact, 'conservation' is a misunderstood and misapplied term. Generally speaking, it is intended to express prevention of waste. To 'conserve' means to 'keep,' to 'protect.' In the sense that a conservation policy seeks to protect our natural resources from unnecessary waste, it is wise; but a conservation policy that seeks to lock up our resources, and to limit or prevent their development, is based in narrowness and stupidity. Unfortunately, since conservation theories have entered our politics, politicians, for want of ability to prevent waste, deem it their duty to prevent development."

What True Conservation Is
"True conservation not only is not opposed to the exploitation of our natural wealth, but positively demands it. Alaska has been a sorry example of false principles of conservation. The politician who knows no conservation but the 'with-drawal' of lands and minerals is as far removed from an intelligent conservationist as is the miser who amasses his gold from the banker who intelligently turns money into the channels of trade. Many people are accustomed to regard the activities of the country which deal with our natural resources as inimical to conservation, instead of recognizing in them agents of the nation's prosperity, essential to its progress and wealth. Lumbering, mining, and particularly the coal and oil industry, are familiarly characterized as 'engines of waste,' 'destructive of nature's storehouses.' To many, particularly those impressed by the above-quoted phrases, it will be surprising news that the Panama-Pacific International jury has awarded to the Standard Oil Company (California) a special gold medal for conservation of natural resources."

Prevention of Waste
"No business organization is more energetically devoted, first, to the extraction; and second, to the utilization of the earth's petroleum, than the Standard Oil Company. In both respects the company has consistently aimed at true conservation—the prevention of waste. Every saving that science and diligence can suggest is practiced in the production of crude oil. The oil sands are protected against damage by water, the wells against damage by fire. By-products, where possible, are saved. Thus by a device known as a trap, and invented by the company, the gas which in varying quantities usually accompanies the production of California oil, and which frequently was allowed to flow into the air, is separated as the oil leaves the well and is saved and burned under the company's boilers, or sold to distributing gas companies. Using the gas for fuel saves the burning of oil. This means a saving of what would otherwise be wasted."

But it is not only in the production of crude oil that the principles of true conservation operate. Waste in the use of our natural products is as detrimental as waste in their development. It is the constant study of the company to obtain from petroleum products their highest values. Experiments are constantly made. A large force of chemists is employed to extract from the crude petroleum its most useful products. For this purpose laboratories are maintained at various points in the country.
Nothing Dissipated
"The company's aim is that nothing shall be dissipated. The most recent and not the least interesting of its laboratory achievements is the extraction from crude petroleum of a new white oil, tasteless, odorless, colorless—an oil of absolute purity. This product, designated in the United States Pharmacopoeia as 'liquid petroleum,' is widely employed by the medical profession as an internal lubricant. It is now a valuable addition to the list of products made from California crude oils, and its manufacture is 'conservation' in the broadest sense of the term. So too the efforts to develop aniline dyes from crude petroleum are efforts in behalf of genuine conservation. The fact that California crude oils have an asphaltic base opens the prospect of deriving from them many products heretofore imported from Europe. The Standard Oil Company (California) is just completing an experimental plant for the manufacture from California crude oil of toluol and benzol, two of the coal-tar products."

Should Stimulate Development
"Hoarding our natural wealth can bring no benefit to the people. But a policy which would stimulate and encourage the free and economic development of our resources and their highest utilization would be worthy of any government's best efforts. The framers of our mining laws knew this. The liberal policy of congress, which made all mineral free, resulted in the opening of the Golden West and the production of its stupendous wealth. It is to be hoped that our government will revert to that policy, so beneficial in its results, and which would do so much towards the relief of the operators in the petroleum fields."

GIVES REASONS WHY THE ANAHEIM SECTION PROSPERS

The following is from a special article on "Anaheim, a City of the Prosperous," in the Los Angeles Times on August 8:

How many readers of the Times have ever visited Anaheim, in Orange county, located twenty-seven miles southeast of Los Angeles? When I say "visited" I mean more than just passing in and out of the city. I mean a protracted stay, such as I am making in gathering reliable information for Times readers—I mean a visit where you meet and talk with those who "do things" and learn from them why Anaheim offers such excellent opportunities for persons of energy and intelligence to invest and locate.

What has greatly impressed me (and I feel certain will impress others when they visit Anaheim) is the courteous, cordial treatment accorded the visitor and the widening of prosperity apparent on every hand. These courtesies we noted when we called at the five banking institutions, when we called on the postmaster, and the president of the Board of Trade and president of the Merchants' Association, on the principal of the high school, on the city officials, on the real estate agents, on managers of the packing houses, and, in fact, all lines of business, including the newspaper fraternity in the two weekly and one daily newspapers of Anaheim. According to the spirit shown, they might aptly paraphrase that popular song title, "I Love You, California."

WHAT IS URIC ACID?

Does Uric Acid Cause Backache, Rheumatism and Kidney Trouble?

Dear Dr. Pierce:—What is Uric Acid? Does it cause kidney trouble? Not long ago I was examined for insurance and an analysis of the kidney secretions showed an excess of Uric Acid.

I suffer from backache, and rheumatism in my limbs, but never before suspected my kidneys. I recognize you as an authority on these subjects, and wish you would give me this information.

Lewis R. My dear Sir: Answering your letter, Uric Acid indicates poisoning of the system; it is also associated with several other poisons and forms painful irritants in the cells of the joints, nerves and muscles. Everyone has Uric Acid in the system, but naturally in small quantities. Excessive amount is caused by eating too much meat and foods that ferment in stomach. The kidneys being the filters of the blood are supposed to separate and throw the poisons out of the system. Weak, tired and overworked kidneys fail to do this, hence the poisons known as uric acids. Although the navel orange and many others such as the Mediterranean Sweet, the St. Michael, the Malta Bloods and Ruby Reds are grown extensively and are money-makers, still the Anaheim district is particularly adapted to the Valencia. These oranges have no equal in any other part of the world. This is demonstrated by the fact that for years Valencia oranges from Anaheim and vicinity have brought the highest prices in the most discriminating markets of the country. To successfully grow oranges of such high quality, which will stand shipment, requires not only the special qualities of climate, soil and abundance of water, but also a high degree of farming skill, hence persons of intelligence, brains and up-to-date ideas are most successful.

Income Justifies Prices
The prices of high grade orange

To overcome the trouble is only a matter of toning up the kidneys, and this is best done by a treatment with "An-Uric" with proper diet and exercise. This prescription has been thoroughly tested and used by specialists at my institution, in Buffalo, N. Y., with satisfactory results, and astonishing relief.

I recently put "An-Uric" before the American people and it may now be obtained from almost any one of the leading druggists in town, simply by asking for Dr. Pierce's "An-Uric," in tablet form.

Take good medical advice, and do not let deadly Bright's Disease or Diabetes develop from neglected kidneys.

groves (the trees and land, without houses) in such established and prosperous communities as Anaheim, necessarily range high, from $1500 to $3000 an acre. These highest prices, however, are paid, not by newcomers, but by men who have had the longest experience in orange growing and selling.

How did these prosperous orange growers get their groves? Seventy-five per cent of them grew their trees. A large proportion of them bought the land—and went into debt for it—planting little trees, and waited while the little trees grew into big trees and the big trees began to bear. The money that paid the mortgages, that has built the bungalows, that has developed such a city as Anaheim, that bought the automobiles, that made the boulevards possible, that created the present atmosphere of prosperity, largely came from the golden tide, which flowed to the orange growers of the Anaheim section. "Every year," And I want to emphasize "every year," because Anaheim and vicinity are in "the frostless belt." The cold snap of 1913, which was so damaging in some locations, did not touch Anaheim orange groves. The higher prices that year for oranges gave Anaheim growers their greatest profits. Being in "the frostless belt" is one of Anaheim's chief assets in orange culture.

Prices of Land
I was shown some land near Anaheim that could be bought for $300 an acre, but land that was recommended to me as first class, in the frostless belt, was held at higher prices. Land in full-bearing Valencia orange trees or walnut trees, is being held at from $1800 to $2500 an acre, depending upon age and productiveness. This sounds a high price to me, but I learned from the orange growers that the regularity of even an average orange crop in the Anaheim frostless belt, will bring an income sufficient to pay interest at asking prices, after all expenses are paid.

Phenomenal Results
The manager of an orange-packing house related this story to me: "About one mile west of Anaheim lives a Valencia orange grower, who picked from one and a quarter acre (125 trees) in the year 1913, a total of 975 boxes of oranges, for which he received a check from the packing house for $3834.91, this being the income from the 975 boxes, an average production of 770 boxes to the acre, and $2690 to the acre, the usual yield for an acre of ten-year-old trees being 400 boxes and of 5-year-old trees, 140 boxes to the acre. In this particular case the trees were nearly twenty years old, the price of $3.84 per box, for so large a crop, was exceptional, but the quality was fine. On account of the freeze that year (1913) oranges were scarce, and the prices high. Even a net income of $150 an acre is sufficient to warrant $1500 an acre being paid for bearing trees."

East of Anaheim lives an orange grower who had four acres of navel and Valencia orange trees in 1913, from which his gross income was $5500, being an average of $1375 an acre.

A lady purchased an orange grove near Anaheim five years ago, her first crop on the ten acres being only $150 an acre, but she intelligently fertilized and cultivated the following year, the result being a $5000 crop from the ten acres, and a like amount since, this being largely due to intelligent management.

A gentleman from the state of Washington purchased a twenty-acre orange and walnut grove north of Anaheim, only three years ago. He was without experience in growing either oranges or walnuts, but applied his business sense to the management. He frequently cultivated the land and on ten acres placed 190 tons of fertilizer, which is considered only liberal, but the result was the doubling of his production, and an improvement in quality of both oranges and walnuts. His income this year will pay 25 per cent on the cost price of his land.

One of the reasons why the orange growers of California succeed so well is because they co-operatively advertise, pack and sell their crops through trusted agents, by means of exchanges and associations. A quarter million dollars is now being spent in the East advertising California oranges, with splendid results. One of the fruit companies of Anaheim makes a specialty of selling fruit f.o.b. California, while others use the pooling system, it being optional with the growers which system they prefer.

Poultry Raising Pays
There are at least thirty poultry raisers near Anaheim, so I was informed, who have flocks ranging from 500 to 5000 laying hens. A poultry raiser of experience said to me: "There is more money to be made in poultry raising in California, for the money invested, than almost anything else, and yet there are more failures than successes." I asked him why people failed. "Because," he replied, "they think they can raise chickens as a side line, with a couple of hundred dollars or less capital, and do very little actual work."

CHILI SHIPMENTS TO START AUGUST 25

Garden Grove News: The canning season for green chili will open about August 25. The Ortega shipping station in Garden Grove is getting ready to handle large amounts of the green product. The chili will be hauled to market by auto truck. The Red Ball line will handle the shipments. The advantage claimed for this method is that the peppers can be sent direct from the field to the canner in the same way this method of shipment was used last season successfully.

45,000 SACKS LIMAS WILL BE HANDLED

Huntington Beach News: Richard Drew, manager of the Huntington Beach Warehouse Company, has more business on hand now than ever before, as the company is building a new warehouse at Wilmington and installing a bean cleaning machine in the Los Angeles warehouse, and Mr. Drew has charge of the improvements. A portion of the work for the installation of the cleaning machine is being done at the company's warehouse here.

The Huntington Beach Warehouse Company handled 45,000 sacks of lima beans last year, and it is expected that a larger number will pass through the big room this year. The company also handles a large amount of barley each year.

Our Gift to you of this $5 Bible

No difference how many Bibles you now have, this one MAKES PLAIN the subjects by pictures printed with the type; so of all others, this is the USEFUL Bible for all. PRESENTED by the to its readers, who will ever be grateful for the opportunity offered by this grand educational distribution.

In addition to the 600 beautiful text illustrations are full page plates of the famous Tissot pictures in handsome colors. As Edward K. Bok, editor of the Ladies' Home Journal, says: "This Bible is not a meaningless picture book. The illustrations serve a distinct purpose. They enrich the text, but they do more—they intelligently EXPLAIN it, so that many a hitherto obscure passage assumes to thousands a new meaning through these eye-teaching pictures."

You will enjoy this Bible, whether you belong to the church or not, for its "eye-teaching" pictures make it of rare educational value to all.

Today's Bible Certificate will be found on another page.

This is what Abraham Lincoln said: "No library is complete without two certain books—the Bible and Shakespeare; hardly a quotation is used in literature that is not taken from one of these books."

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

The board of control of the Watsonville Apple Distributors has set a price for their standard 4-tier apple box, the same being 75 cents f.o.b. Watsonville. Shipments, however, will not commence until August 17, and before that date the established price may suffer some alteration. Bellefonte apples of a fair maturity are selling in the market now for $1.25 a box, and 4-tier Gravenstein are down to 90 cents. Citrus fruits are rather expensive, Valencia bringing $4.00 and $4.25 a box, and navel oranges at $2.25. Nectarines have taken another tumble, and were selling yesterday at $1.00 and $1.10 a lug, while black grapes brought the lower figure of $1.15. Clingstone peaches are worth 90 cents and $1.00 a box, while the freestone variety are valued at but half that amount. Northern rag bag Shima potatoes are in the market, and are being quoted at $1.45 and $1.50 a hundredweight. There were quite a few changes in the vegetable list Thursday, and prices were generally on a lower scale. Cauliflower has been cut to $1.35 a dozen, green chili to 3 and 3 1/2 cents a pound, eggplant to 3 and 3 1/2 cents a pound, okra to 5 and 6 a pound, corn to $1.20 a sack, and peas to 4 and 6 cents a pound. Sweet potatoes are extremely plentiful at the present writing, on account of increased receipts, and prices were reduced yesterday to 90 cents a lug, and by the pound to 2 to 2 1/2 cents.

NEW BUILDING IS GOING UP AT LA HABRA

LA HABRA, Aug. 13.—Parker Bros., the well known contractors, have begun the erection of a new business block on the main street. This building will cost a couple of thousand dollars and is the property of Culp and Lemley, and will be occupied by a pool room. Mr. Culp has just sold out his interests in St. Helen's lease, but Mr. Lemley will continue at the oil fields for the present.

Pasadena First in Wealth
Pasadena is the first city in per capita wealth in California, only one of the larger cities has a lower tax rate and only six out of seventeen cities in the state have less bonded indebtedness in proportion of assessed valuation than Pasadena. These facts are presented by the official organ of the League of California Municipalities in its annual comparison, just issued. "For each and every man, woman and child living in Pasadena," says the Pasadena Star, "estimating the population at 40,000 people, there is assessed property in the city valued at $1535. Against this property there is but 2 1/3 per cent of bonded debt and of this bonded debt more than three-fourths is represented in the water and light departments, which are paying their own way and paying off the bonds besides. In the whole state of California but a single city of any size has a lower tax rate. That city is Eureka and its tax rate for city purposes is but one cent below Pasadena's. The rate of $3.68 for Oakland tops the list."

Gold in Mints
The annual counting and weighing of the gold and silver in the Philadelphia, Denver and San Francisco mints and the New York assay office has just been completed. Director of the Mint Woolley reports, without Uncle Sam being shy a penny at any of the institutions. During the counting and weighing process the utmost precautions are taken with the result that the normal work of the mints and assay office is not allowed to proceed, since this might afford an opportunity to anyone interested in falsifying the count. Regular operations have been resumed following the close-down for the count.

BUILDING ACTIVITY IN SANTA ANA KEEPS UP TO A GOOD AVERAGE

Motorists Struck With Activity Here as Compared to Other Cities

Automobilists returning here after tours made through various cities in Southern California declare that Santa Ana is maintaining a higher average in building activity than many cities of the same size and even larger.

Motorists have unusual opportunities for seeing at first hand just what progress is being made in building. Local people, after making tours through the various districts of the Southland, are struck with the number of residences and other improvements that are being made in Santa Ana in comparison with other cities.

During the past few months the West End Theater and the new Lawrence block on West Fourth street have been completed and work is well under way on the remodeling of the Mitt Phillips block at the northwest corner of Fourth and Birch. Preparatory work on the Dibble block, southeast corner of Fourth and Main streets, is progressing favorably. In addition to these larger projects Santa Ana has seen the erection of a gratifying number of private residences.

Within the next week or ten days work will be started on a new building to cost approximately $5000 at the southeast corner of Sycamore and Third streets.
